

Privacy Policy

Privacy and cookies policy

Happy cats respects the privacy of visitors to our website and wants to protect any personal information that you give us.

This statement is made in order to comply with the provisions of the Data Protection Act 1998 and to tell you how we will use any personal information that you give us.

How we collect information

We acquire personal information about you when you enquire about our services, campaigns that we run, or other things that we do, or if you register with us to become a member of Happy cats, complete a survey, take part in an event or competition, make a donation or give us personal information in any other way.

What information we collect

The types of personal information we might ask for may include your name, address, gender, email address, telephone number, credit/debit card or direct debit details as well as information volunteered by yourself.

How we use your information

Any information we collect about you will be stored securely and treated in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998.

We will only use the information that you give to us:

- to send you information, products or services that you have asked for;
 - to look at how we can improve the information, products and services we offer to you (including this website);
 - to contact you about events, fundraising, campaigning and our other work.

Third parties

Happy cats will not pass your personal details to other people or organisations without first obtaining your consent. For all the ways that we may use your information, we may need to share your information with other companies that help us provide any of our services. However, there may be rare occasions, for example from an individual posting on our online forum or through contacting Happy cats via the website where there appears to be a clear need to safeguard the welfare of the individual and/or his/her family and it may be necessary to contact relevant authorities to address this.

Our use of cookies

Cookies are small text markers stored on your computer that enable us to understand how people use our website. No personally identifiable information is stored on the cookies. In common with many similar websites, we use them to help remember preferences and for anonymous statistical measurements - for example so we know how many "hits" a page has had.

We use cookies to:

- remember certain information about users so they don't have to repeatedly give the same information;
 - recognise if users are already logged in to certain areas of the website;
 - measure how people use our website so we can continually improve how information is provided.

You can control and delete cookies

Even though Happy Cats does not use cookies to collect personally identifiable information about you, you might still want to restrict or block cookies. You can do this through your internet browser (Internet Explorer, Google Chrome, Mozilla Firefox, etc). Use the help function to find out how to block, restrict or delete cookies as well as more general information. However, if you restrict cookies for the Happy cats website then there is a risk the website will not work fully.

What cookies do we use?

Content Management System

Content Management System is the system we use to build the website and update the pages. In a similar way to Google analytics this also collects information about how many times a page has been visited and how many times a file is downloaded (such as the veterinary referral form for example).

How do we protect personal information?

We will make sure that any personal information that you give to us is kept secure, accurate and up to date, and only keep it for as long as it is needed and only for the purposes for which you have agreed we can use it.

Under 18 year olds

If you are 18 or under, please get your parent/guardian's permission before you give us any personal information about yourself.

Your consent

By giving us any personal information you are agreeing to our use of that information as it says in this Privacy Statement.

Right of access

You have the right to ask for a copy of the information that we have about you and we may charge a small fee to do this. Also, if any information that we have about you is wrong, you can ask us to correct it for you.

Changes

If your personal details change, please help us to keep those details up to date by telling us about any changes. If you want to see what information we have about you, or need to tell us about any changes to the information that you have given to us, please contact us at info@happycats.london. We may change this Privacy Statement at any time. If you use this website after changes are made you will be agreeing to those changes.
